

Talking to your employer about

REVCON
VIRTUAL by AAPC

Did you know that most AAPC conference attendees receive financial support from their employers? That's because organizations recognize the value of sending their teams and see the results of what their learning brings to the office.

REVCON Virtual — AAPC's exclusive, revenue-cycle-focused conference — is a great example of this. When employees attend REVCON, they bring back actionable strategies that can immediately improve processes, reduce costly errors, and strengthen compliance.

Why employers pay for REVCON:

- 1 Direct ROI: Employers see results of new strategies employed — sometimes directly reflected in reimbursements and their bottom line.
- 2 Expert access: Participants learn from leading industry voices, ensuring your organization stays aligned with the latest trends and best practices.
- 3 Cost-effective: Because REVCON is 100% virtual, there are no travel or lodging expenses — just accessible, impactful education.
- 4 Professional growth: Employees earn CEUs while gaining tools that elevate both individual and team performance.

Tips for making your case

- 1 Highlight the agenda: Once the 2026 sessions are released, identify the presentations most relevant to your role and your employer's goals.
- 2 Connect the dots: Show how attending will help solve specific challenges your team faces — from denials to compliance to revenue integrity.
- 3 Stress convenience: As a virtual event, REVCON offers high-value training without the added costs of travel or time away from the office.

Take it from past attendees

"I obtained at least 10 items I need to work on for my practice...would highly recommend."

- Tracy H.
CPB, COPC

"REVCON is well worth its weight in gold! The presenters were very informed and highly engaged! Great experience for both new CPC-As or decade plus veterans like myself."

- Tyrone M.
